Bridgewater Retreat, formerly known as “The Schneider School of Fine Art” has been a haven for artists for many years. The accommodations are “rustic” and have been renovated by Mary and Steve Collins. We are again arranging home style catering for breakfast and dinner. There are small fridges in each unit. Box lunches will be provided. Bring our own bed linens and sleeping bag and towels. All cabins are heated. Sturdy type of footwear is recommended as the terrain is rugged. Two well lit studios are available for our use. One is for Watercolours and one for oils. There is ample parking. The old studio down by the river will be used for our get-togethers and is designated as the party lounge. There are sleeping quarters upstairs as well, and those who like to retire early for the night are not advised to stay there. With the Skootamatta River running right through the Bridgewater property and an impressive gorge with rapids, there is no need to stray far to find subject matter.

Supper Friday evening will be at 6 pm. Followed by a demo Sheila Davis.

Audrey will be available throughout the week end for friendly comments or advice should anybody ask for it. Saturday is open for everyone to paint as they please. Fresh flowers will be provided for still life indoors should there be inclement weather; Saturday evening will be a ”show and tell” and a critique of the work produced. Sunday is again open to work on your own. Sounds like a great weekend!

Please register with Audrey now, at the latest by May 04, 2012!
