Juror Craig Alexander

Craig Alexander spent 25 years as a film and TV casting director, based in Toronto and Manhattan. Craig opened the Sybil Frank Gallery on Main Street, Wellington. He named it for his grandmothers, Sybil and Frances, (we always called her Grandma Frank) and bring contemporary modern art from across Canada, USA and Europe that captures their essence.

Although I do not paint, I do Curator the gallery using canvases from my artists to tell a wonderful cohesive story through colour, texture and shape., There are several galleries in Wellington that feature local artists, so I thought I'd do something different and bring in artists I've met and admired from from San Francisco to France. I've been lucky to have met some wonderful artists and expose myself to new and exciting works of art, and I wanted to share that.

East Central Ontario Art Association ECOAA

The East Central Ontario Art Association, ECOAA, was formed in 1960. It brings together a large and closely-knit group of Ontario artists to paint, develop skills and display their artwork with others of similar interest. The success of ECOAA has been proven over and over in terms of instruction, personal and professional growth, satisfaction and the many lasting friendships that have been forged.

The ECOAA organizes several popular weekend painting trips in picturesque areas throughout the year, complete with studio space, a demonstration and optional critique. Members also hold one day paint-outs near their homes open to all members. Every September ECOAA combines with the Central Ontario Art Association for a weekend at Geneva Park on Lake Couchiching, near Orillia. Here, professional instructors are available for workshops and the social activities and entertainment are legendary.

The ECOAA also mounts two major exhibitions with awards presentations annually. The Mystery of the Park is held each October at the Algonquin Park Visitor Centre. The Annual Juried Show moves to various venues around east-central Ontario. This year we are very fortunate to be exhibiting at the Parrott Gallery in Belleville.

If you are interested in finding out more about ECOAA and/or becoming a member. Please visit the Website.
